

INNOVATE! YOU DESIGN & BUILD IT

Purple Soup's Billy Cart Grand Prix is a team-building exercise that will get your employees working as a high-functioning, collaborative unit as they work against the clock in a high-speed, adrenalin-charged environment.

In this challenge, your employees will form competing pit crews to plan, building and race a Billy Cart - all within a limited time frame and with a limited budget.

Communication and collaboration are critical as the pit crews race each other to build a Billy Cart that will qualify them to race and vie for pole position. Only one team will cross the line first to stand on the winner's podium!

This is a team-building activity that will exhilarate and develop your people - both as individuals and as team players.
